Detection of semaphorin-3D expression in cultured human retinal pigment epithelium cells by reverse transcriptase-polymerase chain reaction. To investigate the expression of semaphorin-3D (SEMA3D) in cultured human retinal pigment epithelium (RPE) cells in vivo and in vitro. The expression of SEMA3D mRNA in cultured ARPE19 cells was detected by using reverse transcriptase-polymerase chain reaction (RT-PCR). The experiment in ARPE19 cells was repeated 5 times, and the immunolocalization of SEMA3D was identified by immunocytochemistry. The experiment in vivo was done in adult human donor eyeballs. The expression of SEMA3D mRNA in ARPE19 cells was detected by RT-PCR, and the specific amplification product of the expected size was specifically detected. The expression of SEMA3D was confirmed in cultured cells by immunocytochemistry. Moreover, SEMA3D protein was highly expressed in the inner limiting membrane of the retina and the outer limiting membrane of the cornea. The expression of SEMA3D is specific to RPE cells in vivo. SEMA3D plays an important role in RPE cells. The expression of SEMA3D in RPE cells of the retina indicated an involvement in the development of the retina.
